Often the best place to recover quickly and safely from an illness or injury is your home. Your doctor can help you decide if your healthcare needs can best be met in your home. Our nursing staff can provide education and care for a wide range of needs including IV therapy, wound care, ostomy care, nutritional and medication education for diabetics and assistance for a wide range of illnesses. Therapy (occupational, physical, speech) can be provided for individuals recovering from strokes or injuries. Therapeutic services include; mobility training, exercises for range of motion and recovery, use of assistive devices and speech and language therapy or swallowing training. Our social worker can provide assistance with long term planning and financial aid, as well recommend additional community resources.
